

I am very concerned about this proposed Low Power FM expansion. Myself, and many others, listen to K-LOVE radio over translators (102.7, 101.9, and 90.1 in Northern California) that may be preempted by these new local stations. K-LOVE is a family-oriented radio station, and is a wholesome, welcome alternative to much of what is broadcast locally. The community services that are provided by this station would be sorely missed if this signal was removed from the air. I believe that as a direct result of K-LOVE broadcasting, more than one person has had their lives changed for the better, and possibly helped in the prevention of multiple suicides. I also feel that the removal of the wholesome, positive, and encouraging programming that is provided by K-LOVE, (and other, like radio stations using translator services) the negative impact on our local community would be phenomenal . Please, reconsider this issue, and allow us to continue to benefit from the services and programming that K-LOVE provides.
